Montco Courts and Governmental Offices to Be Closed Monday

Norristown, PA (January 24, 2016) – Montgomery County courts and government offices will be closed Monday, January 25.

“Our entire Department of Assets and Infrastructure, including roads and bridges and public property crews, performed admirably throughout the weekend, and under normal circumstances we would be open for business tomorrow,” said Josh Shapiro, chair of the county commissioners. “Unfortunately, many of the streets in Norristown remain impassable making it virtually impossible to open county government. We have been in constant contact with Norristown officials to help them address the problems, and we have every intention of opening on Tuesday.”
