Norristown, PA (February 22, 2013) – Herbaceous plants look really different in winter. Their many shades of brown and gray give beauty to the winter landscape as well as to dried flower arrangements. Learn to identify flowers at this time of the year on a winter walk. Dress for the weather and meet at the park office.

This free program is suitable for adults and children ages eight and up. Pre-registration is required. Please call 610-270-0215 for more information and to pre-register.
