Green Lane Park Hosts “Waterfowl Watch” Program
Saturday, December 6, 2014 at 1:00pm

Green Lane, PA (December 1, 2014) – Montgomery County’s Green Lane Park (GLP) will hold a “Waterfowl Watch” on Saturday, December 6, 2014 beginning at 1:00pm. Fall migration of ducks, geese, swans, and other birds will be in full swing. The shorter days and cooler temperatures result in new arrivals and departures daily. Bundle up and join the staff at GLP for a look at these amazing creatures as they head south for the winter. Visitors will see what makes Green Lane Park attractive to birds and bird-watchers alike, as they visit three birding “hot-spots” within the park. Participants in years past have seen Greater White-fronted Geese, Cackling Geese, and Canvasbacks.

Bring binoculars if possible, and dress for the weather. This program is suitable for ages nine to adult, and will meet at the Tennis Court Parking Lot (2298 Green Lane Road, Green Lane, PA 18054) in Green Lane Park. This is a free program, but pre-registration is suggested. Call 215-234-4528 to reserve a spot.
