

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Amanda Piccirilli
Director of Communications
North Penn United Way
215-855-3002 office
a.piccirilli@npuw.org

North Penn United Way Names
2015 Superheroes United For Kids

KULPSVILLE, PA – January 20, 2015 – The North Penn United Way has selected 16 “Superheroes United for Kids” to be saluted for their efforts on behalf of children in the North Penn and Indian Valley communities. The 2015 Superheroes United for Kids event, which will take place at PineCrest Country Club on Friday, April 24, 2015, is a high-spirited event that honors 16 Superheroes for their exceptional contribution to kids and acknowledges companies who are making an investment in the success of our most vulnerable students.

The evening will also feature live music, cocktail-style dinner, an open bar, a super-silent auction, and lots of superhero sized surprises. Over 300 community members are expected to join forces the night of the event to raise funds to support the North Penn United Way’s goal of having all North Penn and Indian Valley students succeed in school.

All 16 superheroes hail from across the community, but all have at least one thing in common -- they are doing great work with, or for, children in our region.

2015 Superheroes: Steve Zenuh, Strata-Z Consulting LLC/Manna on Main Street; Andrea Roney, North Penn High School; Roberta Herald, National Penn; Jon Worthington, TD Bank; Stephanie Stute, Harleysville Insurance/Nationwide; Elizabeth Adeyi, Montgomery County Child Care Information Services; Peter Hsu, Peter Hsu Enterprises; Jack Maines, RSVP of Montgomery County; Dean Miller, Lansdale Police Department; Ron Geib, Harleysville Savings Bank; Scott Roth, Love Upper Perk; Eric Patton, Clemens Food Group; Nand Todi, Penn Manufacturing Industries, Inc./Bharatiya Temple; Shamsul Huda, International Spring Festival Publicity Committee; Linda Martin, Salford Mennonite Church Daycare; Mike Keim, Univest Corporation of PA.

For more information about the Superheroes United for Kids event, or to learn more about ticket and sponsorship information, visit the North Penn United Way website at www.npuw.org, or call us at (215) 855-3002.

###

About North Penn United Way

The North Penn United Way (NPUW) is a volunteer-driven organization that works to advance the common good by creating opportunities for a better life for all in the North Penn and Indian Valley communities. Founded in 1945 by the business community, the North Penn United Way recruits and mobilizes people and organizations from across the region that bring passion, expertise and the resources needed to meet targeted goals. Through collaboration, programming and a tradition of leadership, the North Penn United Way focuses on the following three goals: All Students Succeed in School; All Older Adults are as Independent and Community Connected as Possible; and All Residents have a Strong Safety Net.

The North Penn United Way serves, and is comprised of you, your neighbors, your friends, and your coworkers. The North Penn United Way is one of approximately 1,400 affiliated United Ways worldwide. Each United Way is independent, separately incorporated, and governed by local volunteers. Visit www.npuw.org for more information.