Montgomery County Sponsors Farming Conference

Norristown, PA (February 6, 2013) – Farming is not the first thing that comes to mind when someone thinks about Montgomery County, but it remains a vital part of the county’s economy and efforts are underway to keep it that way, including an upcoming conference on farming.

Keep Farming in Montgomery County: A Conference Focusing on Sustaining Farming for the Future will take place from 8:00AM to 3:30PM on February 22 at the Holiday Inn Lansdale, 1750 Sumneytown Pike, Kulpsville. The event, sponsored by Montgomery County in conjunction with active cosponsors, is the fourth farming conference offered by the county.

The conference, another step in helping to preserve farmland and the farming industry, will focus on major topics of interest to farmers, including farming, local regulations, and the increasing awareness of food in connection to local businesses and institutions.
